

The 5th International Conference on Phonology and Morphology

(July 3-5, Thursday - Saturday, 2014)

July 3 (Thursday): Chonnam National University
13:00 ~ 14:00	Registration Venue: Cosmos Hall, College of Engineering 4
14:00 ~ 14:10	Opening ceremony Venue: Cosmos Hall, College of Engineering 4 Moderator: Jinsung Lee (Incheon University, Korea) Opening remarks: Mira Oh (Chonnam National University, Korea, President, The Phonology-Morphology Circle of Korea)
14:10 ~ 15:10	Tutorial on Informational Theory I Venue: Cosmos Hall, College of Engineering 4	Robert Daland (UCLA, USA) Title: What is Informational Theory?	Moderator: Yongsoon Kang (Sungkyunkwan University, Korea)
15:10~30	Break
15:30 ~ 17:35	Session 1: Phonology Room: 117, College of Engineering 7 Chair: Hyun-Kee Ahn (Seoul National University, Korea) Discussant: No-Ju Kim (Kyungbuk University, Korea)	Session 2: Phonetics Room: 118, College of Engineering 7 Chair: Eunjung Kong (Korea Aerospace University, Korea) Discussant: Shinsook Lee (Korea University, Korea)
	Invited talk (15:30 - 16:20) Yasushi Terao (University of Shizuoka, Japan)  Phonological/phonetic factors in sound exchange speech errors and their theoretical implications	15:30 - 15:55 Suyeon Yun (MIT, USA) Auditory properties explain cluster-dependent epenthesis asymmetries
	16:20 - 16:45 Sung-Hoon Hong (Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Korea) & Sunwoo Park (Keimyung University, Korea) Korean reduced words from the perspective of Information Theory	15:55 - 16:20 Tae-Jin Yoon (Cheongju University, Korea) Entropy minimization rather than phonological optimization
	16:45 - 17:10 Shigeko Shinohara (Sophia University, Japan) Japanese rendition patterns of Korean words and phrases	16:20~16:45 Miyeon Ahn (Seoul National University, Korea) Perceptual adaptation in cross language speech perception
	17:05 - 17:30 Yang Hui & Mira Oh (Chonnam National University, Korea) Adaptation of English fricatives into Mandarin Chinese	16:45 - 17:10 Jiaoxiao Xue & Joo-Kyeong Lee (University of Seoul, Korea) Native and non-native listeners' evaluation of foreign accent for pitch manipulated Chinese accented English speech
17:35 ~ 19:30	17:10 - 17:35 Hitomi Onuma, Kuniya Nasukawa & Phillip Backley (Tohoku Gakuin University, Japan) Place-of-articulation-sensitive VOT values in L2 acquisition
	Reception Venue: Hatteulmaru Restaurant on campus

July 4 (Friday): Chonnam National University
9:00~ 10:00	Tutorial on Informational Theory II Venue: Cosmos Hall, College of Engineering 4	Beth Hume (University of Canterbury, New Zealand) Title: Application of Informational Theory to Phonetics and Phonology	Moderator: Sung-Hoon Hong (Hankook University of Foreign Studies, Korea)
10:00-15	Break
10:15~ 11:55	Session 3: Phonology Room: 117, College of Engineering 7 Chair: An-Nah Moon (Inha University, Korea) Discussant: Mi-Hui Cho (Kyonggi University, Korea)	Session 4: Phonology/Morphology Room: 118, College of Engineering 7 Chair: Minkyung Lee (Daegu University, Korea) Discussant: Tae-Jin Yoon (Cheongju University, Korea)
	Invited talk (10:15 - 11:05)  Isao Ueda (University of Osaka, Japan)	10:15 - 10:40 Lin, Chihkai (University of Hawaii at Manoa, USA) Interaction of tone sandhi and morphology in Mandarin: An OT-account
	On the nature of functional misarticulation in Japanese	10:40 - 11:05 Jaehyeok Choi (Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Korea) Unifying consonant lenition and vowel reduction
	11:05 - 11:30 Eiji Yamada (Fukuoka University, Japan) Treatment of extrametricality in positional Function Theory	11:05 - 11:30 Shengyun Gu (East China Normal University, China) A Harmonic Serialism Analysis of Quarter-Syllabic (2+2) Tone sandhi in Shaoxing Chinese
	11:30 - 11:55 Marc Tang & Jin Yan Lin (National Chengchi University, Taiwan) A study of sound symbolism: Is i small enough to be big?	11:30 - 11:55 Haowen Jiang (Rice University, USA) & Loren Billings (National Chi Nan University, Taiwan) Case closed: Positionally conditioned pronoun allomorphy (+ an inverse clitic) in Rikavung Puyuma
11:55~ 13:10	Lunch

13:10~ 14:10	Session 5: Poster Venue: Outside the Hall of College of Engineering 7 Chair: Young-Shik Hwangbo (Sungkyul University, Korea) (1) Ponghyung Lee (Daejeon University, Korea) Testing the correlations between loanword transmission and phonetic perception (2) Yongsoon Kang (Sungkyunkwan University, Korea) Predicting English stress: Pronunciation or spelling? (3) Sejin Oh & Yongeun Lee (Chung-Ang University, Korea) Phonetic convergence in spontaneous English speech: Focusing on the Diapix task experiment (4) Nayoung Park (Seoul National University, Korea) Phonotactics in native and sino Korean (5) Eungyeong Kang (Sangmyung University, Korea) Blending and emergence of new morphemes (6) Jae-Ick Park (Kosin University, Korea) The ongoing lenition of aspirated obstruents in Korean: Evidence from the speakers of three dialects (7) Hyung Martin (Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Korea) Toward a more dynamic and functional Romanization of Korean: TrueKor (8) Kwanyoung Oh (Chonnam University, Korea) A phonological approach to the contextual variances of the English lateral /l/ (9) Yi-hsiu Lai (National University of Kaohsiung, Taiwan) Quantitative analysis of Hakka vowels and comparison of vowel normalization process (10) Muftah B. Eldeeb (University of Almergeb, Libya) The acquisition of derivational morphology by Arab learners of English: V&gt;N derivation
	14:10~ 15:10	Lecture I Venue: Cosmos Hall, College of Engineering 4	Robert Daland (UCLA, USA) Title: The Acquisition of Word Segmentation in Infants: Corpus/Modeling Studies Moderator: Minjung Son (Hannam University, Korea)
	15:10~	Tour (including dinner)

July 5 (Saturday): Chonnam National University
09:00 ~ 10:15	Session 6: Phonology Room: 117, College of Engineering 7 Chair: Woohyeok Chang (Dankook University, Korea) Discussant: Hansang Park (Hongik University, Korea)	Session 7: Phonetics Room: 118, College of Engineering 7 Chair: Dahee Kim (Yonsei University, Korea) Discussant: Eunkyung Sung (Cyber Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Korea)
	09:00 - 09:50  Invited talk: Shin-ichi Tanaka (University of Tokyo, Japan)  Turbid Optimality Theory:  A containment-based solution to  opacity and the DYG derivations	09:00 - 09:25 Yoonsook Mo (Seoul National University, Korea) Prosody perception:  Syntagmatic vs. paradigmatic normalization
	09:50 - 10:15 Yongsung Lee (Busan University of Foreign Studies, Korea) Constraint combinations and  phonological opacity	09:25 - 09:50 Ming Ming Grace Leung (Hong Kong Shue Yan University, Hong Kong) Phonetic variation of English dental  fricatives by Hong Kong Cantonese
		09:50 - 10:15 Mathilde Hutin (Paris VIII UMR 7023, France) Can release burst be responsible for  epenthesis?: A case study on Korean
10:15~ 10:30	Break
10:30 ~ 11:45	Session 8: Phonology Room: 117, College of Engineering 7 Chair: Isao Ueda (University of Osaka, Japan) Discussant: Hyebae Yoo (Incheon National University, Korea)	Session 9: Phonology Room: 118, College of Engineering 7 Chair: Eiji Yamada (Fukuoka University, Japan) Discussant: Juhee Lee (Kyung Hee University, Korea)
	10:30 - 10:55 Clemens Poppe (University of Tokyo, Japan) Prosodic weakness of high vowels in  Japanese dialects and the distinction  between inherent and derived sonority	10:30 - 10:55 Hideo Kobayashi (Osaka Prefecture University, Japan) Schwa epenthesis positioning and  syllable contact within Optimality Theory
	10:55 - 11:20 Gyung-Ho Kim & Jeong-Im Han (Konkuk University, Korea) Lexical effects in the perception of  English allophones by Korean learners	10:55 - 11:20 Suzy Ahn (New York University, USA) Imperfect overlapping in Korean  blends: A Nonce word study
	11:20 - 11:45 Yanyan Sui (Nankai University, China) The metrical structure in standard Chinese
11:45~ 12:45	Lunch

12:45~ 13:45	Session 10: Poster Venue: Outside the Hall of College of Engineering 7 Chair: Seok-Jae Rhee (Yonsei University, Korea) (1) Elizabeth Hume, Ji In Kim, Darcy Rose, & Patrick LaShell (University of Canterbury, New Zealand) The influence of word position on vowel epenthesis in Korean (2) Hyejin Hwang & Dahee Kim (Yonsei University, Korea) Effects of elicitation method on the production of English tense and lax vowels (3) Hayeon Jang (Seoul National University, Korea) Nasal consonant epenthesis before obstruent in Korean (4) Ju-Eun Lee (Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Korea) Historical development of English negative prefixes: a corpus-based study (5) Yoona Lee (Seoul National University, Korea) Consonant harmony as markedness preservation (6) Hyunkyung Yu, Gukin Cho, & Jinmyung Lee (Chonbuk National University, Korea) An aspect of aspiration in word-final coda: Focusing on realization by native speakers (7) Mi-Ryoung Kim (Korea Soongsil Cyber University, Korea) & Jaegu Kang (Korea University, Korea) A comparative analysis of automated and manual measurement on H1-H2 for three Korean stops (8) Ching-Pong Au (Community College of City University) & Yuk-Man Cheung (Hong Kong Baptist University) Phonological tendencies in Korean spoken by Hong Kong learners (9) Yunyi Ma (East China Normal University, China) A Physiological Account to the Absence of Feature [spread] in Flat Handshape (10) Juhee Lee (Kyung Hee University, Korea), Koonhyuk Byun (Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Korea) & Sang-Cheol Ahn (North-Eastern Federal University, Russia) On the loan adaptation of Russian obstruents in Korean
	Session 11: Phonology Room: 117, College of Engineering 7 Chair: Hyunjoo Kim (SUNY-Korea, Korea) Discussant: Dahee Kim (Yonsei University, Korea)	Session 12: Phonology/Morphology Room: 118, College of Engineering 7 Chair: Yoonsook Mo (Seoul National University, Korea) Discussant: Eungyeong Kang (Sangmyung University, Korea)
13:45 ~ 15:00	13:45 - 14:10 Philip M. Imoh (Nasarawa State University, Nigeria) Verbal extensions: Valency increasing operations in Bassa verbal system	13:45 - 14:10 Sha Liu (Fukuoka University, Japan) The Order among positional functions in the positional function theory
	14:10 - 14:35 Daiki Hashimoto (University of Tokyo, Japan) Standardization of a tonal system in Aizu-Japanese	14:10 - 14:35 Chin-Wan Chung (Chonbuk National University, Korea) Morpho-phonologically conditioned vowel epenthesis in English
	14:35 - 15:00 Seokmun Pak and Changkook Suh (Baeksuk University, Korea) Middle Korean consonants ‘k’, ‘h’, and ‘ŋ’: Their alternations and historical change	14:35 - 15:00 Mira Oh (Chonnam National University, Korea) & Heejo Kang (Chosun University, Korea) Word-initial tensification and laryngeal cooccurrence restriction in Korean
15:00~ 16:00	Lecture II Venue: Room 100, College of Engineering 2	Beth Hume (Canterbury University, New Zealand) Title: Strategic Responses to Uncertainty: Strong and Weak Sound Patterns	Moderator: Misun Seo (Hannam University, Korea)
16:00~10	Break
16:10~30	Closing ceremony Venue: Young Myeong Hall, College of Engineering 2 Moderator: Joo-Kyeong Lee (University of Seoul, Korea) Closing remarks: Hyong-Yeob Kim (Korea University, Korea, Vice President, The Phonology-Morphology Circle of Korea)
