

ICKL & Harvard-ISOKL: 2nd Call for Papers
(extended deadline by April 15)
2015 International Conference on Korean Linguistics

Abstracts are solicited for the first joint meeting of the ICKL (International Circle of Korean Linguistics) and the Harvard-ISOKL (International Symposium on Korean Linguistics) to be held on July 24-26, 2015, at the University of Chicago, in conjunction with the Summer Institute of the Linguistic Society of America.

Conference website: <http://www.ickl.info>

We welcome abstracts for papers on any aspect of Korean language and linguistics, with a special session on theories of Korean linguistics based on large corpora or datasets.

The abstract must be submitted as a one-sided, single-spaced page, 1-inch margins all around, and in Times 12 point font. Format can be .pdf or .doc. If your abstract includes any special fonts, please submit your file as a .pdf format and embed the special fonts into the document. The content can be whatever combination of text, figures, tables, and examples. References can be optionally given on the 2nd page.

Abstracts should be submitted to <https://linguistlist.org/easyabs/ICKL-Harvard-2015>
